(XLVIIth YEAR.) THE (No. 2363.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1792.

LIVERPOOL, February 25.

LATELY died at Fordinbridge, Hants, Mary Watts, a poor old woman, whose lethargic habit of body had for three years been very extraordinary, and had lately so considerably increased, that she would sleep a week, a fortnight, and sometimes a month or more at a time, which she considered but as a day. Her son, a weaver, with whom she lived, was accustomed to watch her very attentively, and his usual method of awaking her from her torpor, was by putting food into her mouth. When awake, she would partake of a small aliment, chiefly liquid, and quickly fall into the same state again. Many efforts were often in vain made to rouse her. She awoke about three hours before her death, and continued awake, apparently in good health and spirits, till the moment of her dissolution.

LONDON, February 23.

It is a fact, not generally known, that Tippoo's chieftains are accompanied by bards who chaunt their glorious actions on the day of battle—in the action before Seringapatam, one of our artillery officers aimed his piece at a bard, in hopes of spoiling his tune, but the sonetteer escaped unhurt to sing of after times—the ball killed a horse near him, whose rider, after having lain by his side for some time as if dead, very coolly took up the saddle, and walked off with it upon his head.

BIRMINGHAM, Monday, February 13.

Many of the inhabitants have been much alarmed for some days past for fear of another riot, for the workmen in several branches have turned out, in order to raise their wages, and have assembled in various parts of the town.

Tuesday, Feb. 14. Information hath been just given the peace officers, that an attempt will be made this evening, by the men who have turned out to raise their wages, to destroy the brass-house.

Every precaution is taken to prevent a riot, and the blues are ordered to keep within their quarters, and to be ready at a moment's notice.

Wednesday, Feb. 15. It does not appear that any attempt was made last night to break the peace. The men are not yet returned to their work; but the terror of the military will certainly prevent them from becoming riotous; and necessity must soon compel them to return to their business.

One million three hundred thousand of three per cent. consols are now standing in the names of the lords of the regency of Hanover.

BOSTON, April 3.

Extract of a letter from London, to a gentleman in this town, dated January 27.

"The northern powers having now the blessings of peace, must afford pleasure to every humane mind, although the pecuniary interest of some may be affected. Your state will feel it in the articles of ashes and lumber; but our Canada merchants will more particularly suffer in their fur trade; as during the war in the north, few skins were taken; therefore great plenty may be expected from Russia and Siberia.—Tallow and flax-seed are high."

April 9. Accounts from Cape-François of the 3d ult. mention, that on the 24th of February a French man of war was cast away on Ambrola bank. The men, 100 in number, took to their boats and were fortunately taken up the next morning, by an American sloop and carried into the Cape. About 1200 troops had arrived out of 6000 which had been ordered and every day expected, 500 of the above 1200 were sent to Aux-Cayes as soon as they arrived, without being landed.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Charleston, S. C. dated March 15, to a merchant in this town.

"Since my last to you nothing material has occurred. The want of shipping to carry off our produce, has occasioned rice to fall down to 9s. at this price it seems fixed; tobacco 12s. Not since I came into this country has our harbour, at this season, been so clear of shipping as at present."

SALEM, April 3.

On Sunday last, captain Henry Rust, of the brig Columbia, arrived here from Bourdeaux, in 45 days passage from the land. While he was at that place, there was much talk of a meditated attack on France by the empire, and of Spain, it was however very doubtful whether it ever would take place. The government in the mean time was taking measures to render the nation formidable: the army was recruiting with diligence—and the minister of Marine had been called on for a state of the navy, and to inform what space of time 40 sail of the line could be made ready for sea. In this state of suspence between peace and war, their paper money had depreciated 40 per cent. —specie was disappearing—and commerce languishing; many vessels were laid up, and multitudes of seamen destitute of employment. These evils however were expected to work off as the government matured, and acquired energy.

Captain Rust heard nothing of any troops being sent to the West-Indies.

PITTSBURG, April 7.

Extract of a letter from Wheeling, dated March 27, 1792, to the Printer.

"We have the following intelligence by a party of men from Muskingum, that at a small station between Bellpræ and Belville, on the west side of the Ohio, the Indians killed the wife and three children of one Deliverance Brown—who, being some distance from the house with his son, made his escape. The Indians only scalped the woman.

The same account says, that a house occupied two or three days before by one Samuel M'Cullogh, opposite the mouth of Possom creek, thirty miles below this place, was burnt by the Indians. We have reason to believe, from discoveries made by our spies, that this will not be the only mischief our frontier inhabitants will feel."

Extract of another letter to the Printer, dated Fort Franklin, March 30, 1792.

"I this day returned from the Cornplanter's towns, being ordered there on public business, and at the particular request of the Cornplanter you will please to publish the following, viz.

"My people having been charged with committing depredations on the frontier inhabitants near Pittsburgh, I hereby contradict the assertion, as it is entirely without foundation, and pledge myself to those inhabitants that they may rest perfectly secure from any danger from the Senecas residing on the Allegany waters, and that my people have been and still are friendly to the United States.

CORNPLANTER."

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.

Letters from England mention, that besides the Sierra Leona Company, another is forming for effecting a settlement in a district of country called Bullam, on the river Gambia, in Africa. All free negroes that choose it are to be sent thither at the expence of the company, with the means of procuring a livelihood. —If these attempts, and others which are projecting should succeed, the gradual civilization of Africa may be hoped for, which will eventually put an end to the slave trade.

The following message, and the papers accompaning it, were read in the house of representatives on Friday last.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I have thought it proper to lay before you a communication of the 11th instant, from the minister plenipotentiary of Great-Britain, to the secretary of state, relative to the commerce of the two countries, together with their explanatory correspondence, and the secretary of state's letter to me on the subject.

G. WASHINGTON.

April 13, 1792.

Philadelphia, 13th April, 1792.

SIR,

I have the honour to lay before you a communication from Mr. Hammond, minister plenipotentiary of his Britannic majesty, covering a clause of a statute of that country, relative to its commerce with this, and notifying a determination to carry it into execution henceforward. Conceiving that the determination announced could not be really meant as extensively as the words import, I asked and received an explanation from the minister, as expressed in the letter and answer herein enclosed: and on consideration of all circumstances, I cannot but confide in the opinion expressed by him, that his sole object is to exclude foreign vessels from the islands of Jersey and Guernsey. The want of proportion between the motives expressed and the measure, it's magnitude and consequences, total silence as to the proclamation on which the intercourse between the two countries has hitherto hung, and of which in this broad sense it would be a revocation, and the recent manifestations of the disposition of that government to concur with this in mutual offices of friendship and good will, support his construction. The minister moreover assured me verbally that he would immediately write to his court for an explanation, and in the mean time is of opinion that the usual intercourse of commerce between the two countries (Jersey and Guernsey excepted) need not be suspended.

I have the honour to be, with sentiments of the most profound respect and attachment, Sir, your most obedient and most humble servant,

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

The President of the United States.

Philadelphia, 11th April, 1792.

SIR,

I have received by a circular dispatch from my court, directions to inform this government, that considerable inconveniencies having arisen from the importation of tobacco in foreign vessels into the ports of his majesty's dominions, contrary to the act of the 12th Charles 2d. chap. 18, sect. 3, (commonly called the navigation act) it has been determined in future to strictly enforce this clause, of which I take the liberty of enclosing to you a copy; and I have the honour to be, with perfect esteem and respect,

Sir, Your most obedient humble servant,

(Signed) GEO. HAMMOND.

Mr. Jefferson.

12 Car. 2. Chap. 18. Sect. 3.

AND it is further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That no goods or commodities whatsoever, of the growth, production, or manufacture of Africa, Asia or America, or of any part thereof which are described or laid down in the usual maps or charts of those places, be imported into England, Ireland, or Wales, islands of Guernsey and Jersey, or town of Berwick upon Tweed, in any other ship or ships, vessel or vessels, whatsoever, but in such as do truly and without fraud, belong only to the people of England or Ireland, dominion of Wales, or town of Berwick upon Tweed, or of the lands, islands, plantations or territories in Asia, Africa or America, to his majesty belonging, as the proprietors and right owners thereof, and whereof the master and three-fourths at least of the mariners are English, under the penalty of the forfeiture of all such goods and commodities, and of the ship or vessel in which they were imported, with all her guns, tackle, furniture, ammunition and apparel, one moiety to his majesty, his heirs and successors, and the other moiety to him or them who shall seize, inform, or sue for the same, in any court of record, by bill, information, plaint, or other action, wherein no essoine, protection, or wager of law shall be allowed.

Philadelphia, April 12th, 1792.

SIR,

I am this moment favoured with the letter you did me the honour of writing yesterday, covering the extract of a British statute forbidding the admission of foreign vessels into any ports of the British dominions with goods or commodities of the growth, production, or manufacture of America. The effect of this appears to me so extensive, as to induce a doubt whether I understand rightly the determination to enforce it, which you notify, and to oblige me to ask of you whether we are to consider it as so far a revocation of the proclamation of your government, regulating the commerce between the two countries, and that henceforth no article of the growth, production or manufacture of the United States are to be received in the ports of Great-Britain or Ireland, in vessels belonging to the citizens of the United States?

I have the honour to be, with sentiments of the most perfect esteem and respect, Sir, your most obedient and most humble servant,

(Signed) THOMAS JEFFERSON.

The Minister Plenipotentiary of Great-Britain.

Philadelphia, April 12, 1792.

SIR,

In answer to your letter of this day, I have the honour of observing, that I have no other instructions upon the subject of my communication, than such as are contained in the circular dispatch, of which I stated the purport in my letter dated yesterday. I have however, no difficulty in assuring you that the result of my personal conviction is, that the determination of his majesty's government to enforce the clause of the act of navigation (a copy of which I transmitted to you) with respect to the importation of commodities in foreign vessels, has originated in consequence of the many frauds that have taken place in the importation of tobacco into his majesty's dominions, in foreign vessels, and is not intended to militate against the proclamation, or order of the king in council, regulating the commercial intercourse between Great-Britain and the United States, which I have every reason to believe still exists in full force, as I have not had the most distant intimation of its being revoked.

I have the honour to be, with the most perfect esteem and consideration, Sir, your most obedient humble servant,

(Signed) GEORGE HAMMOND.

Mr. Jefferson.

Extract of a letter from Pittsburgh, to a gentleman in this city, dated the 7th of April.

"The enclosed paper, contains all the late news in this quarter, except a recent affair near Wheeling; on Sunday last the Indians took a woman and two boys prisoners, but being closely pursued they killed and scalped them (as they supposed) but one of the boys has so far recovered as to come into the settlement since. And is thought may be restored, though his throat is badly cut with a knife."

EARTHQUAKE at St. Paul's Bay, Eboulemens, &c. in CANADA.

When the lateſt advices come off from thoſe places, on Monday the 19th inſtant, the earthquake ſtill continued to the great alarm of the inhabitants.—An ingenious correſpondent on the ſpot, has favoured us with a circumſtantial account from its commencement up to that date. The following is an extract:

"All the different ſhocks were felt from weſt to eaſt, and did moſt damage within the breadth of two leagues, comprehending in their courſe (the length of which is yet unknown) the lower part of St. Paul's Bay, ſtriking north and ſouth, the lower end of the iſland of Coudre, and the lower part of Eboulemens.

"Within the above ſpace 21 chimneys have been thrown down or damaged. One ſtone houſe almoſt entirely demoliſhed, ſeveral others, ſplit, and many ſtoves and ovens broke down, beſides the damage done to the church of the Eboulemens.

"It is remarkable that during the firſt days the ſhocks came on regularly at the ſame hour morning and evening—and ſince the 6th, until now (the 19th) we have had at leaſt four or five ſhocks every day.

"The 17th, about half after five o'clock in the evening, a globe of fire, appearing to the eye of the ſize of a 48 pound ball, was obſerved coming from the ſouth-eaſt, and at the height of about 140 toiſes diſappeared in its perpendicular deſcent above St. Paul's Bay, after burſting with an exploſion.

"Many old people remark that for ſeveral quarter centuries back earthquakes ſimilar to the preſent have happened, which laſted 40 days, and find their return tolerably exact every 25 years, to a year or two of variation, and that the preſent is the third which to their recollection has taken place in the ſame ſeaſon, within the difference of a month or two.

"In the hiſtory of Canada, mention is made of a more violent earthquake in the month of July 1663, than any felt ſince, having then laſted ſix months, and began in the preceding January.

"Dating from that period there appears to have happened one regularly every 25 years—for ſince 1668 to the preſent year, five quarter centuries and three years have elapſed.

"Previous to and ever ſince the 6th inſtant, the weather has been clouded and gloomy, particularly weſt and eaſt, and whenever it cleared up (which was very ſeldom) it always began to darken from thence."

Quebec, January, 1792.

Tranſlations from the Leyden Gazette, Jan. 3—6.

The earthquake at LISBON, on the 27th of November, although not of long continuance, was the cauſe of horror and conſternation to the inhabitants. Since the terrible cataſtrophe of 1755 ſo violent a ſhock has not been experienced. The river Tagus became ſo agitated that a number of veſſels loſt their anchors, and ſuffered conſiderable other damage. Other damage was done on ſhore alſo, but not a ſingle houſe demoliſhed.

Diſpatches have been received at Paris from the court of Spain, announcing that his catholic majeſty has given order to the governor of Spaniſh St. Domingo to obſerve the ſtricteſt neutrality between the different parties that diſtract the French part of the iſland, and to form a line of troops on the frontier, that the diſturbances may not pervade the Spaniſh territory; where, if the Spaniſh blacks ſhould manifeſt any diſpoſition to join the French revolted negroes, they are immediately to aſſiſt, by every means in their power, to reduce and ſubdue them.

CHARLESTON, March 17.

A pewter dollar, having been found in the pocket of one M'Namara, who was lately committed to goal for robbery, it is ſuſpected that he has been engaged in paſſing ſuch counterfeit coin: The citizens, therefore, would do well to be on their guard againſt impoſitions of that ſort.

WINCHESTER, April 9.

Monday laſt three gentlemen arrived here from Kentucky: they inform, that the river Ohio is infeſted with Indians, on the Kentucky ſide—that ſome gentlemen who came down the river, and arrived at the Falls previous to their departure, acquainted them, that they ſcarcely ever caſt their eyes on ſhore, during the paſſage, but they diſcovered ſome of the tawny race—that the inhabitants on the frontier next the river, are undoubtedly in a very perilous ſituation—that many of them have already moved off to avoid the impending danger, and ſeveral others are preparing to follow their example.

A letter from a gentleman in Woodford county, Kentucky, to a gentleman in Frederick county, dated March 12, informs, that within a few days previous to the date of his letter, 15 perſons had been killed by the Indians on the frontier.

"The man who feels for others woes,

Thurſday evening arrived in this town, on his way from Fort Waſhington to Philadelphia, the unfortunate, though gallant, major Butler—unfortunate, becauſe the wounds he received in the battle with the ſavages, on the 4th of November, have reduced him from all the vigour of health and ſtrength to a moſt decrepid and abject ſtate—gallant, becauſe, notwithſtanding the deſperate wounds he received, he ſtill kept the field, and by his preſence gave an ardour and courage to deſponding troops. What heart of ſympathetic mould but muſt be ſenſibly impreſſed with this recital—what citizen of America, in whoſe cauſe he bled, but muſt applaud his valour, and commiſerate in his ſufferings.

Mr. Samuel Green, of New-York, has invented and taken a patent for a machine that ſafely conducts perſons and effects from houſes when on fire. This machine, a model of which is adverti[illegible] to be ſeen, it is ſaid, will deliver ten people, or effects in proportion, from any height, every minute, with the greateſt ſafety.

Extract of a letter from a houſe in Nantes, to their correſpondents in Liverpool, dated February 14, 1792.

"Our ſituation in France is very little better, new troubles are breaking out every day in the capital, liberty and property are not reſpected by the ſpirit of party; and ſome cataſtrophe is expected to take place and put an end to the dreadful criſis we are labouring under. The two parties which divide the kingdom muſt ſoon ſtrike a blow at each other which will determine our future fate; unluckily we ſee no pleaſing perſpective; let the event be what it will, increaſing anarchy, or cruſhing deſpotiſm will be our lot; happy thoſe, who in the conflict, don't loſe their property, their lives, their all—the proſpect is gloomy. Our ſtocks are falling and exchanges riſing to an alarming degree, which ſhews a ſtrange apprehenſion of impending danger.
